President Nixon Announces 11 Major Appointments

In a major realignment of State personnel, President Nixon announced his intention to fill 18 top posts in the Department and abroad.

Named were:

- Eleven new Ambassadors to the Soviet Union, Mexico, Chile, Indonesia, Portugal, Haiti, Romania, Kenya, Mali, Guatemala and Malaysia.
- A new Ambassador at Large.
- A new Counselor of the Department.
- Four new Assistant Secretaries for African Affairs, European Affairs, International Organization Affairs, and Economic and Business Affairs.
- A new U.S. Representative to the European Office of the United Nations in Geneva, with the rank of Ambassador.

All the nominations require confirmation by the Senate.

In addition to discussing the President's selections at a press conference in the Department on December 6, Secretary Kissinger disclosed the resignations of William J. Casey as Under Secretary for Economic Affairs and Joseph J. Sisco as Assistant Secretary for Near Eastern and South Asian Affairs.

Under Secretary Casey has been nominated by the President as the new President of the Export-Import Bank. Assistant Secretary Sisco is leaving the Department to assume the Presidency of Hamilton College in Clinton, New York.

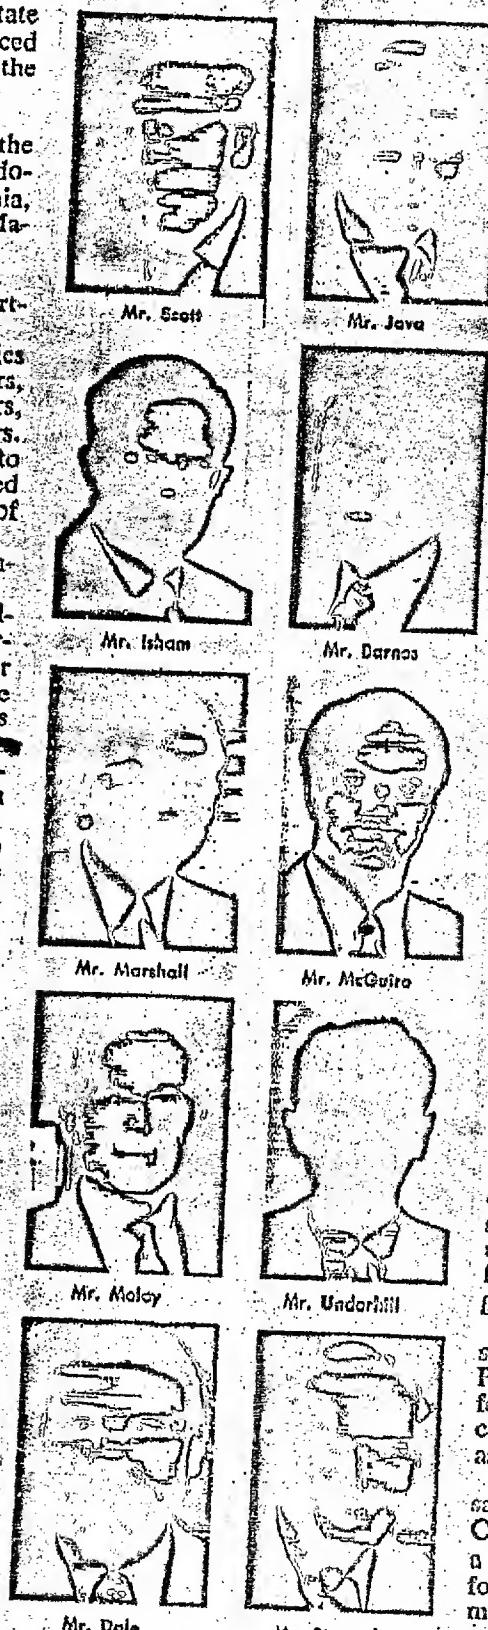

On November 15 the President announced his intention to nominate Stuart Nash Scott, a New York lawyer, as the new envoy to Portugal.

On December 3 he named six additional Ambassadors. Five of the six are career Foreign Service officers:

—Joseph J. Jova to Mexico. A former envoy to Honduras, Mr. Jova has served as the U.S. Representative on the Council of the Organization of American States, with the rank of Ambassador, since 1969.

—Heyward Isham to Haiti. Mr. Isham was Political Officer at Paris during the Viet-Nam peace talks from 1971 to 1973. Subsequently he was detailed to the Commission on the Organization of the Government for the Conduct of Foreign Policy.

—Harry G. Barnes, Jr., to Romania. Mr. Barnes is a former Deputy Chief of Mission in Bucharest (1968-71). He has been serving as Deputy Executive Secretary of the Department since 1972.

—Anthony D. Marshall to Kenya. A former New York businessman, Mr. Marshall has served as Ambassador to the Malagasy Republic from 1969 to 1972. He is currently Ambassador to Trinidad and Tobago.

—Ralph J. McGuire to Mali. Mr. McGuire, who served as Deputy Chief of Mission in Kinshasa, has been Director of NATO and Atlantic Political-Military Affairs in the Bureau of European Affairs since 1968.

—Francis E. Meloy, Jr., to Guatemala. Ambassador Meloy served as U.S. envoy to the Dominican Republic from 1969 until recently. He was Deputy Chief of Mission in Rome from 1964 to 1969.

On December 4 the President announced his intention to nominate:

—Francis T. Underhill, Jr., as Ambassador to Malaysia. Mr. Underhill is Deputy Chief of Mission in Seoul.

—Francis L. Dale as the U.S. Representative to the European Office of the United Nations, with the rank of Ambassador. An Ohio civic and business leader, Mr. Dale is Chairman of the Board of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency.

On December 6 the President announced his intention to nominate nine veteran Foreign Service personnel:

—Walter J. Stoessel as Ambassador to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. Mr. Stoessel is Assistant Secretary for European Affairs.

—David H. Popper as Ambassador to Chile. Mr. Popper is Assistant Secretary for International Organization Affairs.

—David D. Newsom as Ambassador to Indonesia. Mr. Newsom is Assistant Secretary for African Affairs, and the winner of the 1973 Rockefeller Public Service Award for Intergovernmental Operations.

—Helmut Sonnenfeldt as Counselor of the Department. A career Foreign Service Officer, Mr. Sonnenfeldt is on detail to the National Security Council as one of the principal assistants to Dr. Kissinger.

—Robert J. McCloskey as Ambassador at Large. Now U.S. envoy to Cyprus, Mr. McCloskey was formerly a Special Assistant to the Secretary for Press Relations and the Department spokesman.
